AHALIA GROUP

After establishing itself in the U.A.E., Ahalia Group spread its wings to India with the establishment of Ahalia Health, Heritage and Knowledge Village in Palakkad, Kerala in 2005. The group manages hospitals, schools, colleges, research and training centres with a mission to deliver quality services rooted in ethics and social responsibility. The focus on health, heritage and knowledge is visionary and critical as they are inherited from the past, maintained in the present and bestowed for the benefit of future generations.

ABOUT AHALIA SCHOOL OF OPTOMETRY & RESEARCH CENTRE

Ahalia School of Optometry & Research Centre, Palakkad was established with a mission to promote eye care solutions and services. The institution has a strong commitment to ophthalmic teaching and clinical research across various specialities, with an excellent track record of campus placements. The institution has been granted Research Centre status by the Kerala University of Health Sciences (KUHS), making it the first and only Research Centre in Optometry in Kerala.
